In reply Mr. Biante is reported to have said with emphasis: "You may state without tear of contradiction that I will neither write a letter nor send a telegram to the Convention.

He comes from New Mexico.

However, the Harrison headquarters were the first to be opened, and they were in charge of the chosen workers for their chief. So the first day may be considered as giving the advantage of position to the President, for his interests were in the hands of the same friends who managed his canvass four years ago.
